Winter Weather Advisory Continues for Shelby County

There's another chance for snow, sleet and freezing rain tonight. A Winter Weather Advisory continues through midnight for Shelby County.

"We're keeping a close watch on the weather. With a predicted low near 20 degrees, any precipitation could make driving hazardous," said Dale Lane, Director of the Shelby County Office of Preparedness.

Shelby County Public Works trucks put brine solution on roads in the unincorporated areas this afternoon in anticipation of more snow and freezing rain. "Our salt and cinder trucks will be ready," said Tom Needham, Director of Shelby County Public Works.

Staff at the Shelby County Office of Preparedness will stay in contact with local emergency responders and the Tennessee Emergency Management Agency.

Winter precipitation is expected to move out of Shelby County tomorrow. Tomorrow's high temperature should be near 40 degrees.

For more information about winter weather, go to the Shelby County Office of Preparedness HLS/EMA Facebook Group or Twitter@SCOP_HLS_EMA or call (901) 222-6700.
